

Konstantina Koutroumpa (Koutrouba) is a Professor in the Department of Economics and Sustainable Development at Harokopio University of Athens, specialized in Pedagogical and Instructional Studies, and Vice Rector of Administrative Affairs, Student Welfare and Lifelong Learning. During 2017-2022 she has been Head of the Department while during 2016-2022 she has been Director of the Postgraduate Studies Program entitled “Education and Culture” of the same Department. She is the author of scientific books, research papers published in international journals, conferences’ proceedings and collective volumes. Her research interests focus on (i) effective teaching and learning, (ii) the implementation of innovative teaching strategies, (iii) classroom management, (iv) teacher profile and professionalism and (v) lifelong learning.